100/100 Luca Gardini

"Thick and dense bubble, tension and creaminess on the nose, which tastes of chinotto, yellow plum, clementine rind, with touches of medicinal herbs, pepper leaf, and coquillage at the exit. On the palate, fragrant, vertical, saline, with great crunchiness, citrusy and deep closure."

98/100 James Suckling

"I just tasted the 2010 Dom Perignon with winemaker Vincent Chaperon and I was so impressed with the wines precision and balance with a dryness to complement of subtle tropical fruits and pie crust. So drinkable now but will age beautifully. 98 points."

97/100 Essi Avellan MW

"Gorgeous, amply toasty and smoky nose, still holding back. The fruit is impeccably crisp and appetising. But the palate carries the best surprises. Such volume and generosity but look at the acidity kicking in. Superbly saline and perfectly pristine finish, leaving the mouth satisfyingly refreshed, yet yearning for more! And I have a feeling that this is a Dom Perignon that will keep on giving"
